

Summary of Benefits & Coverage and Uniform Glossary Affordable Care Act Mandate

As part of our efforts to keep our clients updated on the Affordable Care Act (ACA), Miller Buettner & Parrott, Inc., is pleased to announce that the Federal Government issued a statement that group health plans no longer have to comply with the required Summary of Benefits and Coverage and Uniform Glossary mandate. This mandate was originally effective March 23, 2012.

The Federal Government based this decision on numerous comments and concerns received critiquing the proposed regulations. The compliance date of March 23, 2012, can be disregarded at this time. Once further regulations are issued, we will update you. The Federal Government has stated that sufficient time will be given for group health plans to comply with the new regulations once they are developed.

We continue to value the opportunity to provide professional services to your organization. If you have any questions, please do not hesitate to contact your Account Manager at 815/986-0059.
